ASSUMING RISK

Dog activities are intended to provide a fun and rewarding experience for a dog and its owner/handler. However, despite careful and proper preparation, instruction, medical advice, conditioning and equipment, there is still a risk of serious injury. Including death, to either the dog, its owner/handler or other persons or animals. Dogs are pack animals and when “off lead” even the best-trained dogs will act instinctively. Understandably, not all hazards and dangers associated with dog activities can be foreseen. Certain inherent risks include the propensity of any dog to behave in dangerous ways that may result in injury to you, another person or dog. Other risks include, but are not limited to, the inexperience, negligence or irresponsibility of a dog owner/handler; the inability to predict a dog’s reaction to sound, movements, objects, persons, or other animals; and actions by the dog due to fright, anger, stress, insect bites, or natural reactions such as jumping, pulling, resisting and biting. Other risks include the hazards associated with environmental and traffic conditions, acts of God, inclement weather, slip and falls, premises defects, equipment failure, failure in instruction/supervision, and all other circumstances inherent to dogs and/or outdoor activities. Should you attempt to break up a fight or restrain a dog, including but not limited to your dog, you may be attacked and severely mauled by your dog or the other dog, or attacked by another dog’s owner/handler. In this regard, it must be recognized that it is impossible for K9 University Chicago and other independent contractors involved in specific events on the premises to guarantee absolute safety.
